The Advertising Major prepares students for professional careers or graduate education. Students majoring in Advertising find career opportunities in professions requiring applied communication expertise. Graduates are qualified for positions in creative, account management, media planning and other areas within businesses, agencies and media. Coursework in this major focuses on writing, research, digital and emerging media and professional abilities. Students are required to complete a capstone internship experience to practice and refine their skills.

The Greenlee School of Journalism and Communication prepares students for communication fields. The school offers four majors:

- Advertising Bachelor of Arts (ADVRT)
- Journalism and Mass Communication (https://catalog.iastate.edu/collegeofliberalartsandsciences/journalism_and_mass_communication/) Bachelor of Science (JLMC)
- Public Relations (<https://catalog.iastate.edu/collegeofliberalartsandsciences/publicrelations/>) Bachelor of Science (PR)
- Sports Media and Communication (<https://catalog.iastate.edu/collegeofliberalartsandsciences/sportsmediacommunication/>) Bachelor of Arts (SMC)

The school coordinates one interdisciplinary major:

- Digital Storytelling (<https://catalog.iastate.edu/collegeofliberalartsandsciences/digitalstorytelling/>) Bachelor of Arts (DSTR)

In addition, the Greenlee School offers a 4+1 program allowing students to complete their B.A. or B.S. and earn an M.S. in Journalism and Mass Communication in fewer semesters.

Founded in 1905, the unit was one of the first Journalism programs to be accredited in 1948 and continues to be one of the longest continuously accredited programs in the country. Accreditation is based on the principle that students need a broad-based, liberal arts education and solid core courses within the discipline. Advertising students may seek an additional major or minor in Digital Storytelling, but may not pursue a second major or minor in Journalism, Public Relations or Sports Media and Communication. All Advertising students are required to take an additional major or a minor.
