Accelerated Degree Program

Advisory Guidelines

The College of Design offers several degree programs that can be completed on an accelerated schedule, such as three years. These accelerated degree pathways should be considered as one of many options students have for completing their studies.

A combination of three factors can accelerate a degree program towards completion in three years:

- Enter Iowa State with early credit which applies towards specific prerequisites and/or electives*
- Take 16 or more credits each semester
- Take classes during one or more summer terms

Iowa State's academic advisors work with students to achieve their academic goals on an individualized basis. This sequence is only one example and should be used as an advisory guideline.
